Presidential Perspective     May, 2019

Hello all! I just spent the day at Mill Hollow's Herb Fair weaving and sharing information about our guild to interested families. Our demonstration season is starting and I am excited about our demonstration committee "demonstrating" the Do's and Don'ts of Demos. Last month our LOCO lesson was Spinning with Art Yarn. Thank you to Jean for all the hard work you put into our LOCO lesson. It's times like this that I wish I could spin.

Demonstrations: Just a reminder about the possibility of demonstrating at the Lorain Historical Society on July 20th. Bring your calendars. Chris and Elizabeth will have more demos to sign up.

LOCO Challenge: I just ordered my yarn for the challenge. I hope you are thinking about your project. Haven't picked a project yet? I will have the challenge bags at our meeting.

Suggestion Journal: There will be a suggestion journal available for members to write ideas, suggestions, shout outs etc. to help the executive board in making decisions in how to make our guild better - or keep doing the great things we are already doing.

Something to think about: LAUGH OUT LOUD! It increases your heart rate, can reduce stress, and fights infection.

SHOUT OUT: Congratulations to Gina Talandis on her retirement. Once she gets acclimated to ALL the extra time she has, she will be found in her garden or once a month this summer at FAVA. Check out the FAVA calendar of workshops Gina will be presenting. www.favagallery.org

April 2019 Minutes

President Barb Enos called the April 2019 meeting to order at 7:01 with 32 members present and 2 guests introduced.

Motion 2019-5

Jean moved and Sarah second motion to accept February minutes as there was no business meeting at the March Dye Day meeting. Motion passed by unanimous voice vote.

Barb reported on the Executive Board and Committee Chair Meeting with ways to continue and improve on what the guild is already doing.

Motion 2019-6

This motion comes as a recommendation from the Executive Board and Committee Chair meeting. Ann Davies moved and Mary Carmosino second to place LOCO lesson presenters names in the annual scholarship drawing. If they are chosen and have won a scholarship in the last 3 years they will receive a free LOCO membership for the following year. Motioned passed by unanimous voice vote.

Study groups were discussed, a group who wants to get together but not organized by the guild yet supported by the guild.

Karen talked about helping with the Mill Hollow Dye Garden.

Elizabeth explained how the guild plans to make 3 shawls this year so we are one shawl ahead and would have a shawl to display at earlier events and to sell tickets on all year along.

Barb explained the Suggestion Journal that is available at meetings for members write any comments, compliments, questions, shout outs or even complaints in.

Chris sent demo thank you's and 12 birthday cards since last business meeting.

Demonstration signups were available for the next 2 events.
